

RSVP Singapore X Nunchi Marine

Podcast: Nunchi Marine Smart Wellness Programme

In an in-depth interview with RSVP Singapore, the non-profit organisation shed light on the Nunchi Marine Smart Wellness Programme, a strategic three-year partnership focused on enhancing preventive healthcare for seniors in the community.

This initiative is designed to equip older adults with essential healthcare knowledge while providing accessible professional healthcare services tailored to their needs. The programme will kick off with the launch of its first mobile clinic on October 19 at Kim Tian West RC.

By leveraging RSVP Singapore's pool of senior volunteers whilst integrating community engagement, the Nunchi Marine Smart Wellness Programme aspires to create a sustainable healthcare model among our seniors
